WILDLIFE SHELTER

Annual Report
2016

Dear Friends of the Shelter,

We are pleased to share with you our highlights from 2016 and thank you for your generous contributions to our success. We are proud to say that 2016 was the Shelter's most successful year ever in terms of work accomplished. We treated 1630 patients with an amazing release rate of 70%*. We responded to more than 5,500 wildlife-related phone calls, and provided powerful education programs and outreach to more than 13,000 children and adults in the region. This record breaking milestone was made possible by the dedicated staff and volunteers at West Sound Wildlife Shelter. It takes a community to successfully run the Shelter and a huge part of that community is the Shelter's committed volunteer force. Without you, we simply could not care for the animals that arrive at our door each year. The other vitally important part of our community is our amazingly generous donors; without your support there would be no shelter in our area to care for wildlife in need. We are also grateful for organizational community support and partnerships — Bainbridge Community Foundation, Kitsap Community Foundation, City of Bainbridge Island, and One Call For All, and other community partners - the Bainbridge Island Land Trust for partnering to host the Brown Bag lunch series, and the Bloedel Reserve for hosting the annual Spooky Creatures Walk.

West Sound Wildlife Shelter also has exciting news about our move!! We are delighted to announce that we have found our new home - a wonderful 12-acre site in historic Port Gamble! Our relocation to Port Gamble will be a cornerstone in the major re-development of the community planned by Pope Resources. This new site provides an extraordinary opportunity to build an expanded, state-of-the-art rehabilitation center and a purpose-built education center. This move will also offer more outdoor space and is more centrally located to the communities we serve. The interactive education center will allow the public up-close and personal experiences with our live education wildlife ambassadors. Additionally, we hope to expand our ability to care for species that are under increasing threat. We are working closely with Pope Resources to secure the necessary permitting for the development of this new campus.

To meet future needs, better serve the region's growth, and create long-term stability, West Sound Wildlife Shelter is embarking on a major fundraising initiative to raise the necessary capital funding. This capital campaign also seeks to enhance the financial foundation and security of the Shelter by creating a sustainability fund. For more information on how you can help, please contact the Executive Director, Lisa Horn, at (206) 855-9057 or by email at lisah@westsoundwildlife.org. Stay tuned for more details of this exciting project!

The new Shelter will continue to serve the entire western Puget Sound region and Olympic Peninsula communities by ensuring all who live, work, and visit our area enjoy and benefit from the diversity of wildlife that thrives within it. Of course, we cannot achieve any of this without your help. Please keep the Shelter in mind for your charitable giving and consider volunteering. Also, please join us at our fund raising events and visit us at various events around the region. For more details on our fund raising efforts and where you can find us during the year, please visit our website at www.westsoundwildlife.org.

Thank you for your volunteer time, your generous direct donations, and importantly, for your help in spreading the positive news about the work we are doing within and for our community.

Thank you for your continued support, and thank you for caring about wildlife!

Lisa Horn, Executive Director

EDUCATION

Inspiring live animal presentations are the core of the Shelter’s education program. Our staff, educational stewards and wildlife ambassadors are amazing at reaching out to the community to create a direct connection with wildlife to help encourage peaceful coexistence and create the wildlife stewards of tomorrow.

In 2016 the criteria for counting programs changed from cumulative programs by all ambassadors even if at the same venue, to the number of unique venues.*

Children and adults alike are captivated by the magic of seeing our live educational ambassadors up close at our programs. In education programs they serve as live examples of adaptation and human impact on wildlife survival.

Research has shown that the experience of seeing wildlife helps make the natural world more real and, in turn, motivates all of us to be better stewards of wildlife and habitats – whether that’s at the level of national forests or our own back yards. In 2016, we reached more than 13,000 adults and children with 108 programs in schools and other civic venues in 15+ cities in the western Puget Sound region.

Conflict Resolution

What do people do when they have squirrels in the attic or raccoons nesting under the porch? They call us. Our staff has a host of humane solutions to wildlife-human conflicts, and we’re happy to share. Wild lives are saved and public safety is improved when people avoid potentially stressful or dangerous interactions with wildlife.

When we educate people about coexisting with wildlife and give them techniques for deterring and redirecting wildlife, everybody wins.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers are the heart of the Shelter. We could not operate without the assistance of our amazing and compassionate wildlife stewards, who dedicate at least four hours a week to help care for our patients. Some of our stewards have been with us since 2003 while others joined us recently.

142
volunteers

14,045
hours of donated time

They come from all backgrounds – military, teachers, students, business persons, scientists, domestic engineers, lawyers, landscapers, office workers, and every other background you could think of. Everyone volunteers with us because they love animals and have an interest in wildlife. They stay because they found something in the work that we do that fulfills a need.

Unlike other animal care positions, stewards aren't able to pet our patients, give them hugs, take them on walks, play fetch with balls, or dangle toys. More likely, our patients will attempt to escape, and bite the hand that feeds them!

We receive injured, ill, or orphaned wildlife almost every day, all year around. Our stewards help clean and setup cages, prepare and deliver food, do round after round of laundry, mop floors, make repairs, and help to keep the hospital and property in good condition. They arrive for each shift in clean, sturdy clothes ready to get to work. At the end of the day they leave tired and dirty. They derive a certain sense of joy and satisfaction, but often they must deal with grief as it is not possible to save every patient.

Not only do stewards learn to feed and care for injured wildlife, they also learn tips and tricks they can share with their neighbors and community to help keep wildlife conflicts to a minimum. The more seasoned volunteers also act as mentors to our newer stewards and interns.

On top of all of that, our stewards donate their time and energy, rain or shine, to community events that we host such as our Spooky Creatures Walk, the spring baby shower, and the holiday open house. They also staff booths at events such as Whaling Days and the Kitsap County Fair to answer questions and talk about the Shelter and the work that they do as volunteers.

A very important part of our cadre of volunteers is another dedicated group, the interns: a group of student volunteers who donate countless hours and energy while learning about wildlife rehabilitation. During 2016 we were fortunate to have 11 interns comprised of high school and college students.

They are an awesome group of young people who have a passion for wildlife and learning. We have likely learned as much from them as they have from us. We couldn't do our work without them, and the internship provides many of them with valuable job skills and clinical training. It is a win-win situation!

We could not do our job without all our volunteers and we're thankful for their time, energy, compassion, patience, and good spirits! Our stewards and interns are passionate about wildlife, and we're passionate in our appreciation of them.

Events

Fundraising events are strategic to our financial health and critical to the sustainability of the Shelter and our mission. West Sound Wildlife Shelter’s fundraising events are very well-known and successful and have become a must-attend for our supporters, many of whom attend several of our events year after year.

CALL TO THE WILD

Our flagship event is the Call to the Wild Gala Auction and Dinner. The 2016 auction took place on April 16, 2016 and raised close to $160,000 in 2016, a 25% increase over 2015! The 2017 auction took place on April 8 and raised more than $210,000!! Don’t miss this annual event - it’s jammed with fun times, unique items, bidding frenzies, good food and wine, and outrageous desserts! Fun is had by all who attend.

WILD FOR WINE

Our Wild For Wine event debuted in 2014 at Islandwood to a sold-out crowd and raised more than $22,000. Our 2015 and 2016 events took place at the Clearwater Casino overlooking the breathtaking Agate Passage and raised more than $24,000 in 2016! ChocMo and High Spirits is and has been our outstanding event sponsor and provides the exquisite wines and delectable chocolates for this event. The evening also includes the opportunity to bid on extravagant wine and chocolate-themed baskets.

Two additional smaller fund raisers are events that provide an opportunity for adults and kids to visit with the Shelter’s wildlife ambassadors and learn more about our local wildlife.

In August the Shelter will launch a new event that will bring back our Ales For Tails event but in a more family-friendly format. The event will take place at Port Gamble, just a short walk from the Shelter’s future home. Guests will be able to meet the wildlife ambassadors and get a tour of the Shelter’s new property. The current plan is to have a beer garden where people can enjoy a beer and some burgers and brats before or after they visit the ambassadors.

The Spooky Creatures Walk is by far the Shelter’s most popular family event and sells out early every year! In 2016, the Spooky Creatures Walk attracted a record-breaking crowd of more than 400 people and raised more than $3,500, making it one of our best small-scale outreach events!

Taking place at the beautiful Bloedel Reserve, adults and kids are led on guided tours where they are able to meet the wildlife ambassadors.

Along with these major events, the Shelter has a presence at many local events such as Stillwaters Ecofest, Whaling Days, the Kitsap County Fair, Bloedel Family Days, Harvest Fair, and more!
