

West Sound
WILDLIFE SHELTER

Annual Report
2015

I am pleased to present the West Sound Wildlife Shelter's 2015 Annual Report covering the fiscal year, January 1, 2015 – December 31, 2015. The financial information, and charts and graphs within its pages represent real life stories of heroism, tenacity, dedication, partnerships and generosity demonstrated by staff, volunteers, donors, and the wildlife whose lives it is our mission to save and return healthy and fit to the wild.

Since its inception more than seventeen years ago the Shelter has grown dramatically. Today, the West Sound Wildlife Shelter is well on its way to becoming a leader in wildlife rehabilitation in Washington state. We are proud to say that 2015 was the Shelter's most successful year ever in terms of work accomplished. We treated 1,569 patients with an amazing release rate of 72%*. We responded to more than 5,900 wildlife-related phone calls, and provided powerful education outreach and programs to more than 12,000 children and adults in the region.

It takes a community to successfully run the Shelter. A huge part of that community is the Shelter's committed volunteer force. Without them, we simply could not care for the animals that arrive at our door each year. The other vitally important part of our community is our amazingly generous donors; without your support there would no doors to open in our area to care for injured wildlife.

We are grateful for organizational community support and partnerships — the Bainbridge Community Foundation, the Kitsap Community Foundation, City of Bainbridge Island, and One Call For All. We're also grateful to other community partners, the Bainbridge Island Land Trust for partnering to host the Brown Bag Lunch Series, the Bloedel Reserve for hosting the annual Spooky Creatures Walk, and the Poulsbo Parks Department for hosting the annual Summer Solstice Walk.

2016 will be an exciting year for the West Sound Wildlife Shelter as we continue to move forward with plans for a new hospital and education center. As the only wildlife shelter, rehabilitation hospital and education center in the western Puget Sound region, we will soon begin a capital campaign to acquire land and build a new facility to meet the rapidly increasing needs of wildlife and their habitats. The new Shelter will serve the entire western Puget Sound region and Olympic Peninsula communities by ensuring all who live, work, and visit our area enjoy and benefit from the diversity of wildlife that thrives within it.

Of course, we cannot achieve any of this without your help. Please keep the Shelter in mind for your charitable giving and consider volunteering. Also, please join us at our fund raising events and visit us at various events around the region. For more details on our fund raising efforts and where you can find us during the year, please visit our website at www.westsoundwildlife.org.

Thank you for your volunteer time, your generous direct donations, and importantly, for your help in spreading the positive news about the work we are doing within and for our community.

Thank you for caring about wildlife!

Lisa Horn, Executive Director

EDUCATION

Inspiring live animal presentations are the core of the Shelter's education program. Our staff, educational stewards and wildlife ambassadors are amazing at reaching out to the community to create a direct connection with wildlife to help encourage peaceful coexistence, and create the wildlife stewards of tomorrow.

Children and adults alike are captivated by the magic of seeing our live educational ambassadors up close at our programs. In education programs they serve as live examples of adaptation and human impact on wildlife survival.

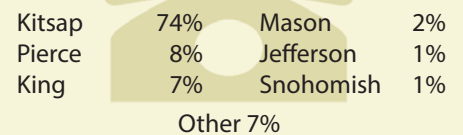

Research has shown that the experience of seeing wildlife helps make the natural world more real, and in turn, motivates all of us to be better stewards of wildlife and habitats – whether that's at the level of national forests or our own back yards. We reached more than 12,000 adults and children with 158 programs, in more than 100 schools and civic venues in 17 cities in the western Puget Sound region.

Conflict Resolution

What do people do when they have squirrels in the attic or raccoons nesting under the porch? They call us. Our staff has a host of humane solutions to wildlife-human conflicts, and we're happy to share. Wild lives are saved and public safety is improved when people avoid potentially stressful or dangerous interactions with wildlife.

When we educate people about coexisting with wildlife and give them techniques for deterring and redirecting wildlife, everybody wins.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers are the heart of the Shelter. We could not operate without the assistance of our amazing and compassionate wildlife stewards, who dedicate at least four hours a week to help care for our patients. Some of our stewards have been with us since 2003 while others joined us recently.

115

16857
hours of donated time

They come from all backgrounds – military, teachers, students, business persons, scientists, domestic engineers, lawyers, landscapers, office workers, and every other background you could think of. Everyone starts with us because they have an interest in wildlife, and they stay because they have found something in the work that we do that fulfills a need.

Unlike other animal care positions, stewards aren't able to pet our patients, take them on walks, play fetch with balls, or dangle toys. More likely, our patients will attempt to escape, and "bite the hand that feeds you," is a literal phrase around here!

We receive injured, ill, or orphaned wildlife almost every day, all year around. Our stewards help clean and setup cages, prepare and deliver food, do round after round of laundry, mop floors, make repairs, and help to keep the hospital and property in good condition. They arrive for each shift in clean, sturdy clothes ready to get to work. At the end of the day they leave tired and dirty, and often smelling like animals and dead fish. They derive a certain sense of joy and satisfaction, but often they must deal with grief as well.

Not only do stewards learn to feed and care for injured wildlife, they also learn tips and tricks they can share with their neighbors and community to help keep wildlife conflicts to a minimum.

On top of all of that, our stewards donate their time and energy, rain or shine, to community events that we host such as our Spooky Creatures Walk, summer

Solstice Walk, the spring baby shower and the holiday open house; and staff booths at Whaling Days and the Kitsap County Fair to answer questions and talk about the Shelter and the work that volunteers do.

A very important part of our cadre of volunteers is another dedicated group, the interns: a group of student volunteers who donate countless hours and energy while learning about wildlife rehabilitation. During 2015 we were fortunate to have 17 interns; three high school students, 12 college students and two college graduates.

They are an awesome group of young people who have a passion for wildlife and learning. It is possible we have learned as much from them as they have from us. We couldn't do it without them, and the internship provides many of them with valuable job skills and clinical training. It is a win-win situation!

We could not do our job without all our volunteers and we're thankful for their time, energy, compassion, patience, and good spirits! Our stewards and interns are passionate about wildlife, and we're passionate in our appreciation of them.

Events

Strategic to our financial health, fundraising events are critical to the sustainability of the Shelter and our mission. West Sound Wildlife Shelter's fundraising events continue to be a must attend for our supporters, and many attend several of our events year after year.

Our flagship event, the Call to the Wild Gala Auction & Dinner, now in its 12th year, raised close to $120,000 in 2015, providing nearly one third of our annual operating budget! Don't miss this event - it's jammed with fun times, unique items, bidding frenzies, good food and wine, and outrageous desserts! Fun is had by all who attend. For information and tickets visit www.westsoundwildlife.org/auction2016.html. Please consider attending this year!

Our Wild For Wine event debuted in 2014 at Islandwood to a sold out crowd and raised more than $22,000. Our 2015 event took place at the Clearwater Casino overlooking the breathtaking Agate Passage and raised more than $24,000! The past two years we partnered with ChocMo and High Spirits to provide the exquisite wines and delectable chocolates for this event. The evening also includes the opportunity to bid on extravagant wine and chocolate-themed baskets.

Two additional fund raisers are our amazing family-centric events that provide an opportunity for adults and kids to visit with the Shelter's wildlife ambassadors and learn more about our local wildlife.

In June the Shelter hosts the Summer Solstice Walk. Attendees visit the Fish Park in Poulsbo on a warm summer evening on the Saturday closest to the summer solstice. Guests are treated to an educational experience with each wildlife ambassador at stations throughout the park where they learn about the various species and the ecosystem.

The Spooky Creatures Walk is by far the Shelter's most popular family event and sells out early every year! In 2015, the Spooky Creatures Walk attracted a record-breaking crowd of more than 400 people and raised more than $3,500, making it one of our best outreach events! Taking place at the beautiful Bloedel Reserve, adults and kids are led on guided tours where they are able to meet the wildlife ambassadors.

Along with these major events, the Shelter has a presence at many local events such as Whaling Days, the Kitsap County Fair, Bloedel Family Days, Harvest Fair, and more!
